Dear Jeff,

Just before you left yesterday, when we were talking, I realized that in referring to the Secret Service memo with which copies of the Zapruder film were forwarded to Washington the night of the assassination I'd said that it was in Whitewash II, when in fact it is in Photographic Whitewash. I could not get to that correction yesterday but this morning, in haste, I've written it with an addition that, if this is ever used, I'll improve. It needs to be pointed out that any shot from that knoll could not have been fired from Oswald's rifle or by him. And that in and of itself that is proof of a conspiracy. If there is space, Posner's insistence despite the evidence that he misrepresents, that no shot came from there also should be noted.

We are glad you and Moley came.

Hope you can do it again sometime.

Our best,

Harold
